

Brady's K9 Fund

The need is real. The time is now.

The mission of Brady's K9 Fund is to protect the K9s who protect our communities. Their goal is to provide every working dog in America a lightweight ballistic vest. The LOF Defense Systems K9 StreetFighter is used by law enforcement and special forces K9 teams globally. Its lightweight design, rapid deployment and Outlast Thermal Management Technology make the StreetFighter a versatile, comfortable harness working dogs can wear for their entire shift ensuring they are always protected when confronting a threat. The goal is that both human and canine partners come home safe.

Police K9s are incredible animals that take on so many tasks that humans just can't do. They can detect explosive devices, narcotics, weapons, track fugitives and locate missing persons. These tasks often put the dogs in dangerous and potentially life-threatening situations. In fact, the police K9s typically face a greater risk than their human counterparts since they are often sent in ahead to investigate dangerous situations. However, unlike the human officers, these K9's are not issued ballistic vests.

Sadly, most law enforcement agencies don't have the funds to purchase protective gear for their canine members. In fact, many agencies are prohibited from allocating funds for purchase of equipment that is not for human use. Please help us equip these hard-working animals who work for each one of us in our communities. All funds raised will be used to support animals in California. The cost for a vest is $1200.
